

Why We Remember...

A poem by the whole school community.

To learn from our past –
The sacrifice people made for us
So we can be free.
Because lots of people died –
They died so people could live.
We remember because we can –
Because we wouldn't be alive.
So that we never forget
To keep people in our hearts –
Those that we have loved and lost.
Red Poppies nodding while people stand silent
Reaching back through the past
To hold hands with our forebears
Always remembered for what you fought for that opened, for us, our futures door.
